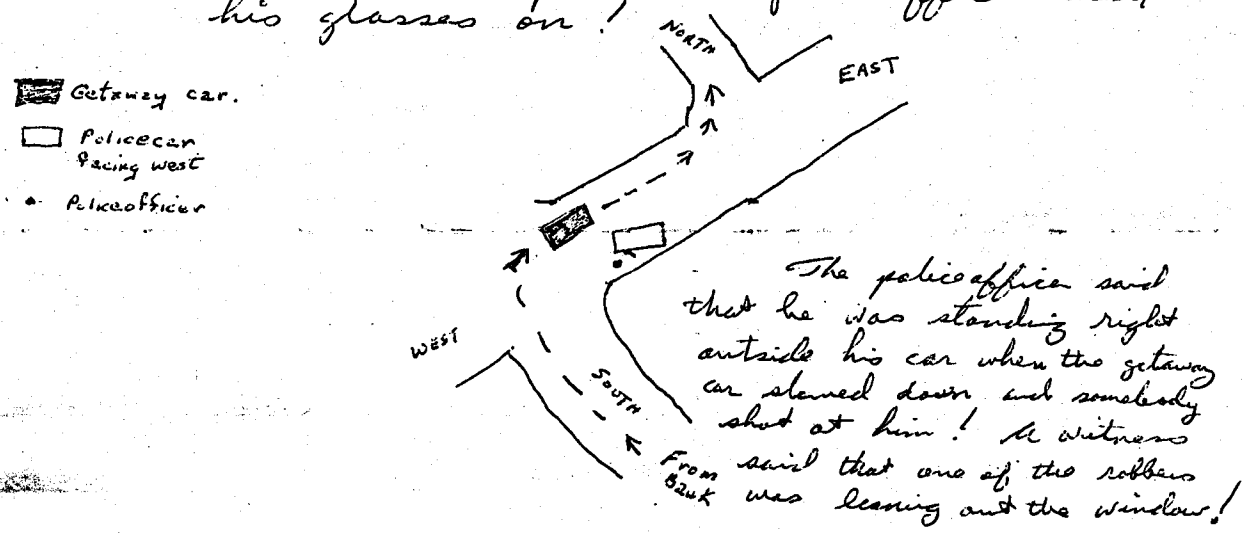
Dear Mom & Dad —

This is a picture of the getaway car after it crashed into a telephone pole at a speed of almost 100 MPH.

Wouldn't it be logical that if I was in this car I would have a cut, or bruise, or scratch, or something?

In addition, police said there was an exchange of gunshots as the car passed momentarily by the police officer on the bridge which he was blocking with his car.

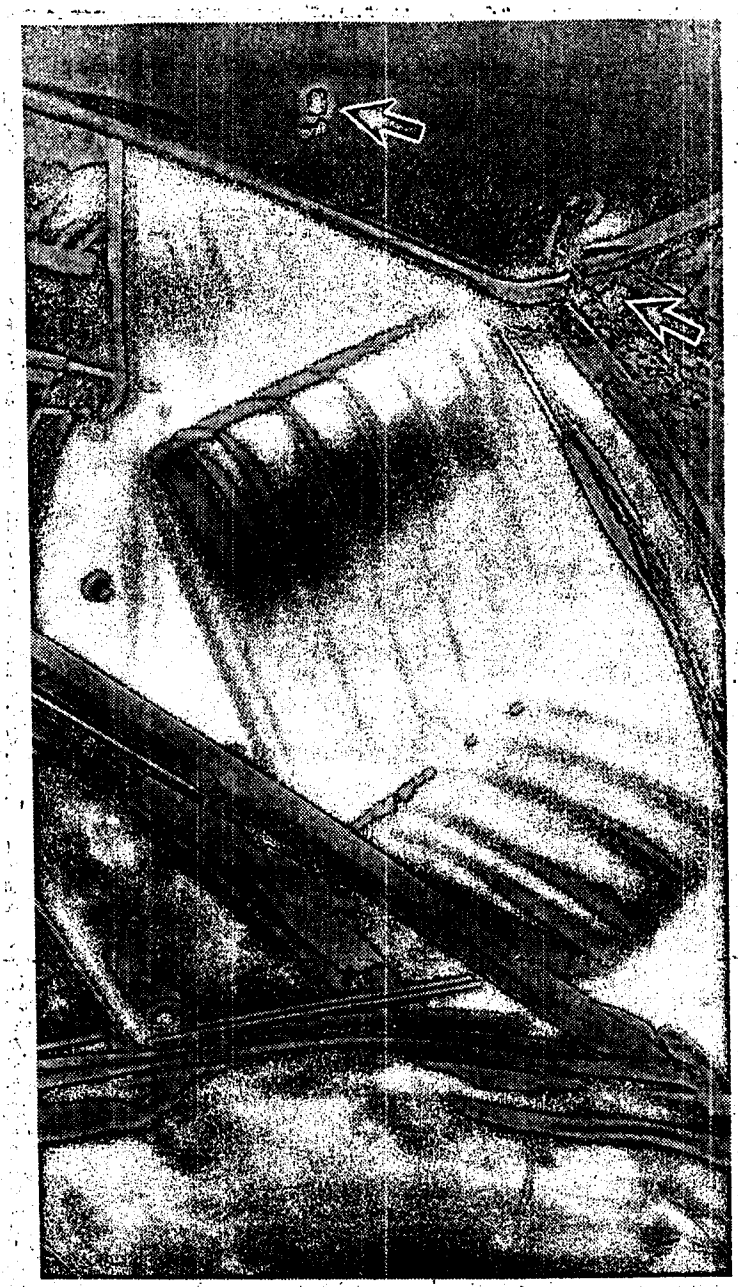
But yet this lying police officer testified on the stand that he couldn't make any kind of identification in the car. He couldn't tell what kind of clothes the men were wearing or anything, even though the car passed him at a distance of 10 feet — the getaway car window was open — the police officer had his glasses on!



Getaway car.
Policecar facing west
Policeofficer
NORTH
EAST
WEST
SOUTH
From BANK
The police officer said that he was standing right outside his car when the getaway car slowed down and somebody shot at him! A witness said that one of the robbers was leaning out the window!

Please believe me, I have been framed.

Bullet Ends a Robber's Flight



[TRIBUNE Staff Photos]

At right is getaway car, bearing bullet holes [arrows], which hit a utility pole and skidded into field at a highway intersection. Deputy chasing car killed bandit in exchange of fire. (Story on page 1)

The police officer shot a the robbers when they slowed down on the bridge but yet he didnt see NOTHING!

CHICAGO TRIBUNE Sat. Nov. 18, 1967